Art Unit: 3653

1. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

2. Claims 1-12,14-27 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over *Julius in view of Huang et al. Julius discloses in figure 1 a dispenser for tissue having a tissue dispensing aperture 9 of a 'Y' type shape at its ends and has a friction feature to provide a leading edge to a following tissue. Note also the manipulating opening 8 to receive a user's fingers and the reclosable lid 5 with a locking means 12*. To provide Julius' openings for a normally closed flap would be obvious in view of the teachings of Haung's use of the flap 20 having the normally closed ends 52 in a normally closed state to effect a sealing of pre-moistened tissues . Note also the 'hinged' ends 34 of the flap and the use of the waved (undulant) form of the closed ends of the flap..

3. *.Claim**13 is* rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over **Julius in view of Huang et al* as applied to claims 1-12,14-27*** above, and further in view of *Zaidman. To provide Julius' dispenser for with a depressible locking member would be obvious in view of the teachings of Zaidman's use of the depressible locking member 20 so as to provide a ready releasable means for the lid.
